14 January 2002 Robert Ortega, Jr. slashwrestling.com 1. BubbaRayDudley w D-VonDudley and StacyKeibler v Singles 2. Spike Dudley w Tazz 1RAW 2:01.86 20 (02.16) 1-1-2 This rivalry has been running for some time, possibly to the point of annoyance, yet these two seemingly have what it takes to put on a fairly DownwardVictoryRoll-Pin; Little to no depth with slim action; weak. good match. Not shown here, unfortunately. No drive and lacked pace. 2 v 2 Tag 1. Billy Gunn and Chuck Palumbo v 2. Hurricane and Tajiri w MightyMolly and TorrieWilson 65 (01.12)1b-1c-E-2t-1c 2:57.54 A good contest here, with all four at least hitting par marks. Good placed late move near the end and match would have probably been enjoyable Superkick-Pin; Good pacing with closing burst; some active balance. regardless of winner. Quite watch able. Repeat efforts are in order. Singles #1 Contender WmnChmp. Royal Rumble 1. Jacqueline v 2. Jazz 15 (02.03) Mx-2-1 3RAW 1:12.10 The eventual winner, Jazz, seemed too predictable here based on previous Trish-Jazz encounters, so this match had enough working against it before it FishermanBuster-Pin; Swift with very light sloppiness; fair for time given. started. Necessarily short; no real value to be found within. 1. Kurt Angle v 2. Kane Singles 4R A W 9:40.28 90 My-2-2-1-2-F-1-F-2-2-1-1-2-2-1 Reminiscent of their match on 1Nov01, possibly stronger, this was the contest of the night. Very energetic and effortful with a nice touch with them CounterRollUp-Pin; Moderate start, constant drive; nice submission exchange. exchanging anklelocks near the end, and that double-chokeslam, wow! 2 v 2 Tag 1. Edge and Rob Van Dam v 2. William Regal and Test 4:13.63 80 (02.35)2t-1r-2t-2r-2t-2t-E-1e-2r Very potent contest for building up the Edge-Regal IC match at the Rumble. The constant use of the brass knuckles in Regal's wins serves to fuel a feud. FacePucnh(BrassKnuckles)-Pin; Good action/effort throughout; pressed late. give Regal a shady character, and strengthen Edge's win at RR, if he wins. Singles 1. Booker T v. Big Show 6RAW 2:39.19 35 (01.53) Mx-1-2-1-2-2-1 Another of those short-setup matches here. The basic frame of the matches seemed to have too many holes to really enjoy it. Booker T's pre-match DropToehold(IntoExpsdTurnbuckle)-Pin; Seemed too intermittent; lacking. manipulation of the turnbuckle seemed to set up a logical win here.

3 v 3 Tag 1. ChrisJericho and Christian and LanceStorm v

2. APA and Rikishi

7RAW 3:18.91 80 (01.99)2r-1s-1j-E-2b-1c-E-2f-Mx-2f-1j

Breakdown-Pin; Light on time, yet exchanges and action fast and constant; good.

Much less convolution than expected for a six man contest. Tags and participation were very consistent throughout the match. Despite a want for a Bradshaw win, momentum for Jericho is needed toward RR.

Show assessment: Quite strong. The build to the Rumble is progressing in the right direction; no downgrades yet.

RATINGS:

I still continue with the system of using pre-match action and post-match to value a contest while giving the primary emphasis to the match itself which includes basic ring psychology, pace, mechanics and execution of move sets and high spots, the finish and its enjoy-ability, and how much the match advances a story line, if there is one to advance. But another element that I must convey is that I let the opening match or two set a baseline and then perform some degree of comparison of later contests to the baseline.

NON-MATCH SEGMENTS AND SCORES

Flair/Jericho/McMahonConfro. (+2, good promo, continuous build to RR match); Christian/Storm/Y2J/Bradshaw (+1, sets 7RAW, good retort); HHH/StephArrive (+1; by virtue that someone wanted Steph to shut up); Cole/AngleInt. (+3, Angle is starting to manipulate "what" from the audience like SCSA); Steph/DebraConfro. (+1, SLAP! SLAP! those had to hurt); Post3RAWJazz/Trish (+1, continues to build RR match which could have its strength); Steph/HHHAgain (+1; HHH discontent with SCSA and possibly SMH which is understandable); APA/BigShow/BookerT (0, sets 6RAW, Show delivered a good line, not much here); Christian/Storm/Y2J (0, sets Rikishi in 7RAW); Cole/AustinInt. (+3, sets later confrontation, classic Austin), Steph/HHHOnceAgain (+1, he had the sense to keep SMH in the back and away from the mic), HHH/SCSA/UT (+2, it was coming, but I did not think UT would be the only one standing).

For details on each segment...you should know where to go by now. Hint: CRZ.

CLOSING NOTES:

- 1. Those Angle/Kane matches are definite keepers; both in recent memory have been above expectations; quite possibly, more can be drawn out from these two together.
- 2. Those were some heavy slaps between Debra and Stephanie. Wonder if they could be taught to knife-chop that strongly... 3. Many continue to mark HHH in as the Royal Rumble winner; I still think it is a toss up.
- 4. No interference is a WWF show's best friend, aside from quality contests (4 in this showing) and good interviews (2 strong from Austin and Angle).

5. No title matches is a good move especially considering the near-impossibility of change when near a Pay-Per-View. 5A. Speaking of PPVs, and I have said this before, blast DirecTV. What?! I said blast DirecTV.
