1. Booker T v 2. Edge

Singles

1SD 4:30.11 67 1-2-1-2*2*1

AxeKick-Pin; Slowed a little late, mostly held a good pace, some OK/good back and forth, pointed.

Had to like the basic elements in this one from match speed to some pretty good action. Given length, a pretty good follow-up to their WrestleMania match. Obviously, would have preferred a little more time. Neutral on the interference. Booker T picks up fourth win of his last six and Edge loses third of last five. Quite good merits warranted.

1. Lita and Trish Stratus v 2. Ivory and Jazz

2v2Tag

2SD 4:16.84 53 2i-2i-2j-E-1l-2x-1t

Stratusfaction-Pin; Slow early on but settled OK, some suitable exchange here, light rally helps out.

Efforts from Stratus and Lita definitely up from last week. Not the best of breaks but did move along steadily. Ivory and Jazz complemented well enough and this one was capable as a result. A light rally near the end worked in the match's favor. No confusion in the end series a plus. Some good marks for this one. Similar in future efforts?

1. William Regal v 2. Diamond Dallas Page

Singles

WWF European Championship-G2

3SD 3:35.34 49 1-2-1-1-2*1

RegalStretch-KnockOut; Stable start, action led in OK and steadied, good speed overall, interference served.

This contest moved along pretty well with action steadily getting better throughout. Christian's interference was nicely placed for some good effect coming off Page's interference on the recent Raw. A little more speed than expected here with Regal involved. Not driving, but finishing series worked here. Good marks for time.

1. Tajiri w Torrie Wilson v 2. Test

Singles

4SD 3:53.31 46 Mx-2-E-1-1-Mx-2

BigBoot-Pin; Broke OK/good, some swift exchanges, some light drive, progressed OK, held on.

Match started off well and contained some quick exchanges which were good for holding interest. That aside, this moved along OK and had some drive mid-match and a few hard hits. Would have liked a little more speed on the finish, however. Nothing outstanding, but nothing glaringly bad either. Elements combine for near par showing.

1. The Hurricane v 2. Mighty Molly

SinglesIntergender

5SD 0:58.67 03 2-1*

Spinebuster-NoContest; Light substance within the match, sets up finish as only foreseeable goal.

No bell sounded, time called at first contact, initiating no contest.

Coming off of Monday (4Raw, 10), another set up to a Lesnar display with similar execution, but just as effective. Interesting effect that Hurricane tries to walk away from fighting Molly, but if so, why really have the match at all, even under the given premise? Only mild contact here; match did as supposed to but near-zero as standalone.

1. Hardy Boyz v 2. Billy Gunn and Chuck Palumbo w Rico

2v2Tag

WWF Tag Team Championship-G1

6SD 3:37.62 51 Mx-1j-2c-1m*1m*2b

FameAssEr-Pin; Began fairly, managed some fair/good action amidst similar pacing, some convolution late.

Match speed and exchanges were OK throughout in this one. Rico with a good outside showing in his WWF debut with a pretty ingenious type of interference late. Speaking of the later part of the match, there was some convolution to detract from this. Still, match was mostly balanced and did not drop off much anywhere. Breaks par.

1. Kevin Nash w Scott Hall v 2. The Rock

Singles

7SD 7:11.16 08 11-1-2*

DoubleAxeHandle(TheRock); Moved slowly throughout, some gain later on, excessive interference, low draw.

This one was hurt a lot by the slow pace and was further hit by Hall's excessive interference. This, perhaps, should have been expected given recent nWo showings, but it's detrimental just the same. Match gained a little merit late, but no drive to speak of. Sets up the post match segment, but match itself was uninteresting if not repelling.

SHOW ASSESSMENT: Four matches close together and around par, a quality opener, and two bad pieces (one which was understandable). Non-match stuff helped out some. OK/good show, considering.

RATINGS: I still continue with the system of using pre-match action and post-match to value a contest while giving the primary emphasis to the match itself which includes basic ring psychology, pace, mechanics and execution of move sets and high spots, the finish and its enjoy-ability, and how much the match advances a story line, if there is one to advance. But another element that I must convey is that I let the opening match or two set a baseline and then perform some degree of comparison of later contests to the baseline.

CLOSING NOTES:

1. So next Raw's main event will be triple threat, please get Stephanie out early. Please!
2. Ten points of interference?! Even WrestleMania did not have that much. That's the most of the year for any show so far. Overdone, obviously.
3. Nice to see the actual wrestling up from the dismal amount on Raw. Most of it was good to. Odd to see a constant decline from the first, save the sixth match, of course.
4. Bringing in XPac to the nWo is not the most compelling choice, but a good move no less.
5. To see who goes where should be interesting. Good reason to watch on Monday.
