1. Trish Stratus and Bubba Ray Dudley v 2. Chris Nowinski and Molly Holly

2v2IntergenderTagTables

1Raw 6:35.01 65 Mx-1b-2c-1b-1t-2m-E-1b-1b-2cⓄMx-1bⓄ
Powerbomb-ThroughTable; Good exchanges and with some pickup at about 1/2, good effort, suited close.
Ⓞ ThroughTable ChrisNowinski (self-inflicted top-ropo dive 5:55.12) MollyHolly (BubbaRayDudley 6:34.70)

Good way to open here with each person getting a share of the match. Match held pretty well throughout with good action. Good outings by Stratus and Dudley here worth mentioning. Table spots were OK, but the rule change without notice was confusing and would have liked it to go down to one-on-one. Good balance of the elements.

1. Booker T v 2. William Regal

Singles

2Raw 3:13.81 51 Mx-1-2-1-2-1
ScissorsKick-Pin; Opened OK, with good shots early, and mostly consistent, slowed some, held to finish fairly.

Kept short here, but with substance to speak of. Contest held consistent for the most part, and while there was nothing too bright to note, the activity was fair enough and match avoided detractions, overall. This slowed a bit near the end, but the finishing series allowed this to hold on well enough and break the 50 line. Borderline good.

1. Ric Flair v 2. Triple H

Singles

World Heavyweight Championship- G1

3Raw 9:39.44 75 Mx-Mx-1-1-2-2-E-2-2-Mx-1-1-2
Pedigree-Pin; Slow and held, with some calculated action, strategic, light drive, and with balance.

Some of the match had a strategic feel to it, which helped here among a generally slow pace. Some light pickup at the 3/4 mark helped out as well and the match momentum was balanced throughout. Would have liked this to actually decide who got the championship but hard to argue with the end result seemingly being similar. Quite good.

1. Lance Storm and Christian v 2. Kane

2v1Handicap

4Raw 5:23.99 58 (03.06) 2-2-1c-1s-1c-E-2-2-2
Chokeslam-Pin; Started well and steadied, slowed about 5/8, with some fair/good efforts, held on.

A pretty good effort for Kane following his extended layoff. Perhaps more offense for the supposedly handicapping team in order to improve on this. For time, pace probably should have been take up a notch, but can forgive that this time around. Contest held on here for some good marks, but will watch for and expect better in coming.

1. Big Show v 2. Tommy Dreamer

Singles

5Raw 2:42.19 09 (01.97) 1-1-1
ⓄChairshot(BigShow); Contained a semi-good display, but too light on substance otherwise.

Merit of this match is the somewhat good display by the Big Show, and given the premise was not expecting to see much from Dreamer. However, this deprived the match of any other substance this could have had. Show gets the win, but only after Dreamer chairs him senseless (I'll take it). Only 6RAW keeps this out of night's worst.

1. Stacy Keibler v 2. Terri

Sp. Guest Referee-Jerry Lawler

SinglesLingeriePillow-SpGuestRef

6Raw 1:43.70 -0 (11.03) Mx-1-2*2
PowerbombMountForwardFall-Pin; Match type self-inflicts handicap, no merit.

Another RAW, another zero assigned for the third consecutive week. Undoubtedly, this has gotten out of hand. These matches do nothing to improve the shows quality, and possibly serve to put a sizeable dent in it. Lawler's presence repelled as expected. Not a single thing worth merit; would merit negatives if The Lines employed them.

1. Triple H and Chris Jericho v 2. Rob Van Dam and Ric Flair

7Raw 9:36.80 79 (03.59) 1x-2v-1j-2f-1h-1j-E-2v-Ⓞ-1j-1h-2v-2v
FiveStarFrogSplash-Pin; Quite good exchange among mostly above par pace, progressed steadily, some drive late.

Match good to close on, especially given the fiasco preceding this. Quite good action found here. A particularly good extraneous element was Flair's saving Van Dam. If this marks Van Dam's time to ascend, not a bad outing to go on. Match had some drive contained within the finishing series. Overall, approaching strong, Best of the night.

SPECIAL NOTE: Re-introduction of the World Heavyweight Championship belt calls Brock Lesnar's Undisputed Championship into question. World Championship is granted Grade-1 status pending further developments.

SHOW ASSESSMENT: By overall score, a bit above the last showing, but still not nearly where it needs to be. Another show with a zero rating is obviously detrimental.

RATINGS: I still continue with the system of using pre-match action and post-match to value a contest while giving the primary emphasis to the match itself which includes basic ring psychology, pace, mechanics and execution of move sets and high spots, the finish and its enjoy-ability, and how much the match advances a story line, if there is one to advance. But another element that I must convey is that I let the opening match or two set a baseline and then perform some degree of comparison of later contests to the baseline.

CLOSING NOTES:

1. If the sixth was not bad enough, did they really have to stage a product endorsement in there as well? JR: Looks like Castrol... ?
2. Did I miss someone setting up that first table on the far side of the ring? Telekinetic powers, maybe?
3. Like firing a machine gun then learning that you are aiming at the wrong man, so goes Eric Bischoff tonight.
4. When things could not get worse for Jericho, he loses his title shot so the champ can not get his revenge on Van Dam.
5. I think that was one of the louder reactions for the spinaroom that I have heard in a while.
