1. Kane and The Hurricane v 2 Christian and Chris Jericho 2v2Tag	World Tag Team Championship-G1
1Raw 6:49.53 60 (15.98) 1h-1h-1k-1k-2x-2c-E-1k-Mx-Mx-2j CounterRollUp-PinUsingRopes; Good st a rt, settled, some drive about 2/3, good finishing series.	Match had some good elements to this ranging from pace to action. Would have liked this match to have some more balance and a less screwy finish given the stakes, however. No added effect to mention, but a good closing series capped this contest. Good contest overall, but unsure of the wisdom of placing the belts on Christian/Jericho.
1. Lance Storm w William Regal v 2. Al Snow Singles
2Raw 3.07.66 20 Mx-1-E-1-21 Superkick-Pin, Stable break, pace steady yet slower than average, action held OK, no drive to close.	Match had a good break and some OK action. But the speed was not nearly what it should have been given the brevity of this contest. Furthermore, that there was no drive not only did not help, but given the scenario, detracted some. Both capable of better so some disappointment is in order. Hoping this is an anomaly for the time being.
1. Jeff Hardy v 2. Rico Singles
3Raw 3:07.60 28 (08.28) 1-2-2-1-Mx-1 SwantonBomb-Pin; Some variable action after a fair start, OK speed, did not kick on.	Given the competitors, some good speed was warranted but was not quite met in this contest. Some good/some bad action lined this contest which led toward the former for the most part, keeping this match out of worst of the night honors. Like the second, that there was no kick to the contest hurt this match. Only lightly fair at best.
1. Molly Holly and Victoria v 2. Jacqueline and Trish Stratus 2v2TagSpGuestF	Ref
4Raw 3:55.59 38 (03.28) Mx-2j-1m-1v-2j-2j DDT-Pin; Quick tags early, action varied but mostly good, average pacing, no drive yet closed good enou	Not a bad outing from these four here. Some good action amidst a suitable pace here. Biggest concern was that Stratus, who is defending her title against Victoria this weekend, did not get any real offense during the match. Some offense from Stratus would have made this better, however, contest ends up being fair. OK credit for the tabs.
1. Chris Nowinski v 2. Tommy Dreamer Singles
5Raw 2:43.41 30 (01.53) Mx-Mx-2-2*1 FullNelsonSlam-Pin; Good extended exchange to open, some OK action thereafter, somewhat unexpected t	Offhand, liked the extended back and forth exchange to start this off. Given that, would have liked the match to have gone on longer, yet it did serve a purpose of intrigue involving Nowinski and Snow. Did not quite expect Snow to stop Dreamer from using the cane so that was some added effect. Still, contest lightly fair due to time limitations.
1. Booker T v 2. Big Show Singles FallsCount	Anywhere
6Raw 5:22.35 49 (00.91) Mx-2-1-2-2-1-2-1*2 ♦Chairshot-Pin; Some good action throughout following average start, well-placed interference, held OK.	Some good action in this one, especially considering the potential perils demonstrated by previous Falls Count Anywhere matches. Jericho's involvement was limited to late in the match and was well-integrated for his feud with Booker T. Match barely misses the 50 line, but was enjoyable, especially when considering some earlier matches.
1. Triple H w Ric Flair v 2. Rob Van Dam SinglesCanadianL	umberjack
7Raw 10.37.35 70 2-1-1-2-1-1-1-2-2-E-2*1 ♦Beltshot-Pin; Good break, some added effect enhances, variable pacing, held on to close suitably.	Mixed feelings on the one-sided lumberjacks, but leaning towards the bright side as somehow convincing the lumberjacks to his side plays well with the cowardice of Triple H's character. Match had some good action and the late onslaught of trapped lumberjacks helped boost the finish somewhat. Quite good; best of the night.

SHOW ASSESSMENT: A step up off of last week's Raw, which is a good sign heading into No Mercy, though some elements of the show cast some doubt on its half of the PPV. RATINGS: A figure assigned to a match based on balancing a match's elements such as start/break, pace, progression, psychology, mechanics, execution of move sets, key spots, and finish against the amount of time it is given (Minutes with the most relative quality are given primary emphasis) as an assessment of performance. Scale is adjusted to increase requisites for achieving higher ratings such as those in the 90s, 100s, and higher.

CLOSING NOTES:

1. "And they said I couldn't top TLC." - Bischoff. Well Eric, you haven't. So there.
2. "TWO!" Was the crowd that bored tonight?
3. Production error hilarity: (Fade to black) "And another thing..." Heh.
4. Never actually thought they would take a Falls Count Anywhere match into the women's shower, but there they were.
5. I think I might enjoy Al Snow taking Chris as a protege, like Maven, only heelish.
