SHOW ASSESSMENT: Well let's see, over forty minutes of decent wrestling on average (when was the last time we got forty minutes on Raw?), some good backstage bits, and Raw has a fifty plus showing, its first since November 4th. RATINGS: A figure assigned to a match based on balancing a match's elements such as start/break, pace, progression, psychology, mechanics, execution of move sets, key spots, and finish against the amount of time it is given (Minutes v most relative quality are given primary emphasis) as an assessment of performance. Scale is adjusted to increase requisites for achieving higher ratings such as those in the 90s, 100s, and higher. CLOSING NOTES:

- "The never-ending tag title matchup" says JR about the first tonight. How right he was, or so it seemed.
 Since Mastercard continues to cite and assign values, how about this one Christian's shower cap: ridiculous.
 Dudleyz pretty much propose titles for dignity tonight. I don't know about you, but that's a pretty pricey tradeoff to me.
 It's a cool thing about the Hurricane that he gives a Hurri-mask to a kid in the crowd. Just a thought.
 I am sure someone has caught this already, but no Garcia, Flair was not Kane's opponent tonight. Let's see, classify that screw up number 2,501,892.
