TRIPLE H v BENOIT v MICHAELS analysis

Have to notice outright that with the exception of Triple H and Benoit, the singles combinations between these three have produced some fine efforts including that year high 124 singles match. On that, this triple threat should be worth looking forward too. Hoping Evolution will keep itself out of this affair altogether, but not entirely convinced of that happening. The case for each of these competitors holding the title has been made but nothing in particular has stood out to say where exactly that belt will end up after this one is over. Regardless of who comes out on top, it should spawn a good post Wrestlemania issue, which hopefully, will spawn another good match or two from these.

CONSENSUS

Omitted, insufficient data.

PRELIMINARY EXPECTATIONS

Pace Deliberate break, holding steadily for majority.
Action Very effective, sharp.
Drive Perhaps around 15/16.
Effect Emotionally driven, main event atmosphere.
Close Strong, conclusive.
Range 80 - 120

GUERRERO v ANGLE analysis

The out of ring interactions between these two have been nothing short of excellent and very convinced that these two can run that excellence in the ring, especially if their one on one at the end of that SmackDown Royal Rumble is any indication. If you throw out Guerrero's last, and why not given the premise, then these two have yet to involved in a bad match. Furthermore, when you consider that the biggest stage of 'em all has been known to draw out some exceptional efforts, would it really be unsafe at all to expect something fine from this one?

CONSENSUS

Omitted, insufficient data.

PRELIMINARY EXPECTATIONS

Pace	Consistently good.
Action	Technically strong.
Drive	Early and late.
Effect	Righteousness against culmination of comeback.
Close	Off of effect.

RAW FATAL FOUR WAY TAG analysis

Immediately concerned that we have yet to see any really strong tag matches from any of these teams. Perhaps that 89 from the Dudley Boyz and 102 from Van Dam seem appealing, but those came a while ago and not under the conditions of this championship match. The best we have seen out of these four so far has been generally average. Is it impossible that these teams will turn out something great? No. But they will need to give a lot more than they already have.

CONSENSUS

Omitted, insufficient data.

PRELIMINARY EXPECTATIONS

Pace Sharp start, massive settling.
Action Bearable, perhaps with some increase late.
Drive Three quarter, point of free for all.
Effect Uncertain, perhaps lacking.
Close Uncertain, abrupt?
Range 50 - 70

SMACKDOWN FATAL FOUR WAY TAG analysis

Much like the Raw fatal four way, these teams have yet to show much of anything in the tag ranks unless you wish to count that 101 of the Bashams against the since defunct Los Guerreros. Looking very hard for another angle to get fired up about this one, but so far that search has turned up nothing. Maybe its best prospect is to have Haas and Benjamin have the majority of control of this one, but that does not seem likely when the belts will be entering from elsewhere. Dicey to bank on.

CONSENSUS

Omitted, insufficient data.

PRELIMINARY EXPECTATIONS

Pace Holding, midway move.
Action Mostly good, some lapsing.
Drive Point of free for all.
Effect Free for all, mostly.
Close Multiple finisher series.
Range 65 - 90

VICTORIA v HOLLY analysis

Victoria has not seen a match without Holly. While those matches involving these two have generally been some of the better women's efforts, they did come in the tag ranks. Some food for thought, however. Their only singles match to date went unrated, but outside reports have it as a consideration worthy effort. Some claim that the hair stipulation lends itself to a Holly win, but can you really say there is no willingness to have Holly succumb to Victoria and the loss of her hair?

CONSENSUS

Omitted, insufficient data.

PRELIMINARY EXPECTATIONS

Pace	Steadily throughout
Action	Fair, some good points.
Drive	Three quarter to seven eights kick.
Effect	Hair stipulation.
Close	Devious, perhaps.

BIG SHOW v CENA analysis

Yet another in the class of tag meetings only, but from what is plain on paper, one should hope that will carry over to singles action. Hoping that Show will rise highly beyond his last defense against Gunn and that Cena can draw the effort out of Show that the Lines believes he is capable of putting forth. Still, Show's singles tab has been less than promising, and that he will be likely the one in charge of this match just leaves more questions than answers at this point.

CONSENSUS

Omitted, insufficient data.

PRELIMINARY EXPECTATIONS

Pace Fair mostly, breezing.

Action Effect driven.

Drive Uncertain, maybe a little late?

Effect Knee damages, massive size disadvantage.

Triumphant, good.

CRUISERWEIGHT OPEN analysis

The resident spotfest on the card and based on recent, match seems worth looking forward to. Hoping that Senor Senor Guerrero will keep his distance from this one, but recent say that does not seem likely. Have to know that most, if not all involved, are capable of solid basics and some incredible high spots. Given enough time to run, and how could there not be in five hours, might have a nice little gem on our hands.

CONSENSUS

Omitted, insufficient data.

PRELIMINARY EXPECTATIONS

Pace	Good speed throughout.
Action	Spot driven, some good basic. From half mark forward.
Drive
Effect	Continuously spotted.
Close	Off spots, well done.

GOLDBERG v LESNAR analysis

The premiere angle out of the build up so far is that each competitor has executed their finisher on the referee, Austin and that he has made it clear he will go after both of them should they provoke such. Some questions regarding Goldberg in the singles form as his three were not exactly given near optimal circumstances. Not really concerned with Lesnar in that respect. Have to wonder if the guest referee angle is really good enough to go off of. Also have to wonder if and when this will become a two on one affair, and in which combination that will be.

CONSENSUS

Omitted, insufficient data.

PRELIMINARY EXPECTATIONS

Pace	No early speed, OK.
Action	OK, power driven.
Drive	Perhaps lacking.
Effect	Presence of special referee, need to settle issue.
Close	Referee involvement.
Range	50 - 80

KEIBLER/MISS JACKIE v SABLE/WILSON analysis

Assume for a second that any of these four had a line on their records. Does anyone really dispute that it would be outside of single digits? Out of zero perhaps? Of course we all know there is no wrestling inherent in this as this is the resident rest period slash fans are the winners point of the show. Cannot really fashion hopes on this save to hope that this one is placed somewhere in the middle of the event.

CONSENSUS

Omitted, insufficient data.

Pace Inapplicable.

ROCK/FOLEY v BATISTA/ORTON/FLAIR analysis

CONSENSUS

PRELIMINARY EXPECTATIONS

With the Rock and Sock Connection reformed for this contest, does one really need much more incentive to go on? I suppose if one really needs something, perhaps can expect Foley and Orton to really take it to each other given their personal war of supremacy. From an elemental standpoint, can plainly see that this Evolution segment has done its best tag work as a three man team and in the handicap setting no less. Perhaps not in a position to steal the show, but definitely poised to be of the upper echelon if done right.

Omitted, insufficient data.

Pace	Good movement.
Action	Effect driven, one-sided for majority.
Drive	After even, three quarters.
Effect	Reunion of Rock n Sock, comeuppance for Evol.
Close	More questions than answers. 70 - 90

JERICO v CHRISTIAN analysis

The end of "Vitamin C" leading up to this somewhat aptly titled scurvy match has been done well enough with Stratus at the center of the issue. That said, hoping Stratus is not involved in this one unless they have something exceptional to work for her. Tough to say how this will play out. For the stage they are on, resolution would be nice, leaning towards Jericho, but this being their first match off of the premise, can also make a case for Christian. Some questions, but shaping up to be enjoyable.

CONSENSUS

Omitted, insufficient data.

PRELIMINARY EXPECTATIONS

Pace	Good break and hold.
Action	Sound, with boost from effect. Not necessary perhaps?
Drive
Effect	Stratus at middle; turn in cards?
Close	Turn? Straight resolution? Unable to decipher.

KANE v UNDERTAKER analysis

From unbeliever, to so convinced that he demanded a match with the dead man, Kane has played his part well enough. Pretty entertained with the haunting phenomena as well. The effect of the Undertaker's return should be through the roof, especially if he reverting to his old persona. Of course, this is not a match we have not seen before, but so what? The effect alone should compel people to see this, and in the end, really do not think they will be disappointed.

CONSENSUS

Omitted, insufficient data.

PRELIMINARY EXPECTATIONS

Pace	Deliberate.
Action	Power and effect.
Drive	Straight through.
Effect	Previous phenomena, return of old Undertaker
Close	Decisive, somewhat.
Range	55 - 90
